Hamline Pressing Ninth in Sunday School Circuit, Southeast Y. M. C. A. Team Throwing Hooks Into the Commercial League Leaders, and Manhattan's Lead Menaced.

By N. T. WORLEY.

Friday's games were interesting be cause of their significance. The Midways failed to throw a scare, or a semblance of one, into the Cornell camp and the "Tigers" walked away with the game by a round score. Post-office surprised Agriculture by handing the Farmers a neat trimming, thereby getting a firm grip on third place. The G. P. O. nine managed to win a game in the Marquette circuit, the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company being caught napping on the wire. At Thirteenth and D streets northeast, one of the biggest crowds of the year turned out to see Hamline and Ninth do battle. game on errors, but rallied and managed to tie their opponents. From the way in which this game was played, it looks like Hamline had more than a fair show to cop the Sunday School League pennant, unless Ninth takes a brace.
